Lat to Eng Eng to Lat

Directions: 1. Starting at the cross, copy the text to be translated on every white line below, using the neatest possible handwriting you can. Remember that English will always require more space than Latin. 2. Check your copy with the original. 3. Translate the Latin into English (or English into Latin) below each copied line, word-by-word. 4. If you have any trouble with vocabulary, make notes in the space at the bottom. 5. When finished, check your translation and note any changes that need to be made in your notes. 6. When everything is checked and corrected, copy your translated lines onto a new sheet and save it for later. 7. If desired, e-mail/fax work to your instructor.
